Ephemerides

Reader,

I AM here come again to salute Thee with an Almanack for the Year of our Lord, 1711, wherein for thy Profit, (if thou art Astrologically inclin'd) is contained an Ephemeris of the Cælestial Motions and Aspects: And for thy Pleasure, (if thou art a Lover of these pleasing Speculations) here are Predictions fairly drawn from the Cælestial Glories hanging over thy Head, and moving in the Heavens for Signs and Seasons. Here are also all other things necessary for a Cælestialler, Fairs and High-ways excepted, the which I hold needless and impertinent, as is also the teaching Thee how to make Bonds, Bills, and Acquittances, and such like Stuff; but for those that are delighted with a more noble diversion, I have endeavoured to make the following Discourse as pleasing and profitable as any of this kind, hoping 'twill therefore merit the Reader's approbation, the which will be to me an ample Satisfaction, and sufficiently steel me against the Carping and causeless Criticisms of Momi-like Find-faults, and envious Detractors.

I wish thee (good Reader) as much pleasure in the perusing of it as I have taken in the pening of it, tho' some are apt to wonder what pleasure can be found in such matters, to whom I shall only apply the Saying of our English Satyrist,

Alas ! suppose they nothing can be got
By precious Stones, cause Swine esteem them not?
Or do they think, because they cannot use it,
That those that may have knowledge will refuse it?

I am (Courteous Reader) thy Friend and Well-wisher

Richard Gibson

THE INTRODUCTION.

O Thou great Wonder-working Power above !
By whom the Machine of th' whole World doth move :
Who rul'st both Sword and Sceptre with a Rod,
And still'st this mutinous World with thy sole Nod ;
Inspire victorious ANNA ; gently shed
Showers of Sceptres on her Royal Head :
Her Bosom Tutor, and her safety tender ;
Obe Thou hers ! as She's thy Faiths defender,
That we m' enjoy Saturnian Days of Old,
To re-convert our Iron into Gold :
With these throng'd Blessings was her Grandfire crown'd
Thrice Seven long Summers, leaving a Renown'd
And Princely Progeny ! O may't secure
This Throne, as long as Sun or Stars endure !
But may her Sceptre, and her Regal Power
Brook no Corival, nor Competitor ;
Whilst Princes, made her Tenants, hold the Lease
Both of their Lives and Fortunes to the Peace
Of glorious BRITAIN ; and preserv'd thus, own
Their Selves and Safeties to her Royal Throne.

Thus Greatness joyn'd with Goodness makes compleat :
But few there are like ANNA Good and Great :
They'r Qualities too rarely known to fall
Within the Compass of the self-same Scale ;
Yet are they Poiz'd in her, divinely met,
For Piety makes her Good, and Prudence Great.
Piety ! oh 'tis that inexhausted Mine
And Magazine of Moral and Divine
Graces, which like the Influence, and the bright Beams of the Sun, fill Britain with their Light.
And may their blazing Rays flame through the whole
Earth, from the Artick to th' Antartick Pole.

Let this men now well soon & know,
 How Time and fickle Tide do go,
 Observe both Sol and Luna's motions;
 With their Influence on the Ocean;
 'Twill teach them how to shift their Tack
 O'er Flats and Bars to safely slide,
 Anchor to cast, or to get dail,
 In Storms and Tempests to prevail.

Monthly Observations.

The New-years New Moon will be in Conjunction with Venus, and Opposition to Saturn, giving us a Glut of cold Rain or much Snow, with some Frosts intermixt.

The beginning of the Month Mercury is afflicted by the Opposition of Saturn, from the latter degrees of Cancer and Capricorn, and about the Middle he is oppress'd by the Opposition of Mars from Leo and Aquary. Great will be the loss Merchants sustain this Month by foul Weather, or otherwise.

Here's the old flint in mundo too, much trouble in the World. when both the Luminaries are eclipsed in one Month, but the best on't is neither of them are visible, so let us set nihil innocent against it, that no Eclipse hath influence on those Places where it is not visible; to which some will add a bit credo, that they don't believe it.

FEBRUARY, 1711.

Swift as our Thought, and nimble as our Sight,
 You dart from Heaven to Earth your Beams of Light:
 But the Soft Peace and Quiet you foreshow,
 Our eager Wishes think their pace too slow;
 At distance you can hit a certain blow.

Monthly Observations.

Not one bad Aspect among the Celestial Wanderers in this Month. The Two Fortunes change their Signs, the one for the better and the other for the worse, but that worse will be best for the common good, because 'twill lower the Price of Wheat for a little while, the other will advance the value of Women (at least in their own conceits) and make preparation for a fruitful Spring.

Mercury comes into Aquary at the Back-door, and makes a shew of opposing Mars again, but regularly troops off, after better advice, remembering that (tho' the Proverb saith Policy goes beyond Strength) Strength sometimes proves too hard for Policy.

The Conjunction of Sol Venus, and Mercury in Sextile to Jupiter, signifies good to most sorts of People; well-loaded Ships, many safe and profitable Voyages. Some great Counsel, Club, or Casual, held in this Month.

Come do it now, remove the Gallick sway,
And smile on Europe with a peaceful ray.
The Gallick Fury, whose Infernal Brand,
Inflam'd the Nations on the Flemish Strand,
Expiring lies, and shall not now revive,
Nor our faint hopes of pleasing Peace deprive.

Monthly Observations.

Five glorious Trines in this Equinoctial Month, presage a quiet, calm, and peaceable time, but Mars stronger than Jove seldom bodes much quiet, let Italy tell whether it be so or not.

Venus in Aries in Trine to Mars will produce much good to England, so also (aith the great Trine of the Sun and Mars in strong Reception. The Trine of the Two Fortunes in Earthy Signs, give us great hopes of a Fertile Spring, and a Plenty of the Fruits of the Earth, as well as Corn and Cattle. Mercury in Sextile to Jupiter. and Trine to Saturn, signifies much Trade, Traffick, and Merchandizing, many jobs and solid Consultations. The Trine of Saturn and Sol signifies grave and great Contrivances in Fleets and Sea-ports, or in and about Watry Matters or Watry Places. Old Statesmen, and Old Officers much honoured and respected.

See how the most Un-Christian Monarch lies Groveling in Dust, as a just Sacrifice :
T' appease an Injur'd and Abused Nation ;
Who would believe so strange an alteration ?
But dire Ambition does admit no Bounds :
There are no Limits to aspiring Crowns.

Monthly Observations.

This Cardinal Novi-lunium is in Square to Saturn, sending abroad dark and cold April showers, dark Actions and dismal Accidents in some Places under Aries and Cancer.

The Full Moon will be in Opposition to Jupiter and Square to Mars, giving us Hail-Storms, if not Thunder, also some Storming and Thundering Action, managed with much craft and courage.

Jupiter in Trine to the Sun bodes good News from the Indies and Ireland, and Corn falls a little more, perhaps by virtue of Authority. Some Gown-man in a feeble State is relieved by his Prince or Superiour; or some Royal Bounty is bestowed on Religion, or Religionists in distress.

Venus is come into Gemini, thereby signifying Good to London, Flanders, Brabant, and the famous Island of Barbadoes. Much News this Month both Good and Bad, and of each both true and false.

JUNE 1711.

As when proud Lucifer aim'd at a Throne,
To have usurpt it, and made Heaven his own;
Or as when Nimrod lofty Babel built,
A Structure as eternal as his Guilt;
Let us (said he) raise the proud Tower so high,
It may amaze the Gods and kiss their Skie.

But Mars approaching to the Square of Jupi- ter will much lessen those good signi- fications, and sometimes interpose dissention and differences, strife and stratagems, to dissolve the bene- volent influence the happy Rays of the Fortunes would longer bleis the World with, as we shall see in the next Month.

J U L Y 1711.

He spoke, but the success was different found,
 Heav'n's angry Thunder crush'd it to the Ground:
 So Lucifer, and so proud Babel fell,
 And 'tis a curst Fall from Heav'n to Hell.
 So (France) thy Monarch falls to Pride a Prey;
 And falls too with as much reproach as they.

And, which is yet the strangest thing of all;
 Has scarce one Subject will lament his fall;
 For he that still so furiously maintain'd
 Disdain to all, is now by all disdain'd:
 And what's more just than that I'm done unto
 By others, as I would to others do,

Unhappy Land ! how oft hast thou been curst
 With Stork-like Kings, but this of all's the worst;
 The Famine, Plague, and War are dreadful Fiends,
 This Plague of Tyrants others far transcends;
 From him the Fountain of all Mischief flows,
 From him 'twas first this bloody War arose.

OCTOBER. 1711.

No Man must near his Cath'lick Person come,
 Unless he be for Tyranny and Rome;
 With hardn'd Face he assaults the frail and fair,
 Uses his power the vertuous to ensnare:
 Threatens the Coward, fawns upon the Bold,
 Debauches all with Power or with Gold.

NOVEMBER. 1711.

Perfidious Wretch! his neighbouring Nations when
 They thought themselves the most secure of Men,
 How oft has he made Currents of their Blood
 To flow like Waters of a mighty Flood?
 Yea, void of Pity, his inhumane Rage
 Destroy'd the Saints, and spar'd no Sex or Age.

Oh gulph of Horror! oh profound Abyls!
Was ever Mischief half so black as this?
Nature herself sure will rejoyce at's Death;
And on the Waters sing with such a Breath,
As will make Waves dance higher than before:
To waft the welcome News to Britain's Shore.

Judicium Astrologicum:

O R,

An Astrological Judgment on the Year 1711.

BY the great Mercy of God we are now come to write our Astral Judgment on the Year of our Lord, 1711. which we deduce from the Positions and Configurations of the Heavens and heavenly Bodies, at the Ingress of the Sun into the Four Cardinal Signs, considering also their Transits and mutual Aspects through each Quarter.

The Learned Butler has prov'd by Scripture, by Reason, and by Experience too, that there is an Astrology in the Heavens; that Man in this State of Corruption may attain to a competent Knowledge therein, and that the said Knowledge may truly be acquired by legal Art and Honesty, by hard Study, and diligent Observation, without the least Derogation from God or true Godliness.

The Pious Joseph, some time Lord Bishop of Norwich tells Astrologers, that while they have God and Nature for their Warrant they may walk safely: And Calvin calls the Art, The Alphabet of Divinity: So Gerson tells us, That Heaven is God's Instrument whereby he governeth the Frame of this corruptible World: Propterea (saith he) non est hoc negandum de Astrologia, quam esse Scientiam nobilem & admirabilem, primo Patriarcha Adam, & sequacibus revelatam, Theologia non abnegat: Wherefore it cannot be deny'd of Astrology, but that it is a noble and admirable Science, revealed first to the Patriarch Adam and his Posterity: Divinity it refuseth not; nor do we know how it should, for the Works and Word of God interfere not with each other, there is no Clashing nor Contradiction (in reality) in them: Some Divines and Astrologers may disagree, but Divinity and true Astrology will ever be Friends.

Petrus de Aliaco, in his Concordance of Astrology with Divinity, proveth Floods, Sects, Schisms, and other notable Accidents to be signified by the Heavens; and Eusebius attributeth so much to Astrology as to acknowledge the Death of Kings, the Desolation of Cities, Calms and Storms, fair and foul Weather to be signified by the Stars, and fore-seen by Astrologers.

Origen saith, Caelum instar Libelli expansi est notis Syderum omnia futura in se scripta continentis: Heaven is like a Book laid laid open, containing all future Events written in those glorious Characters the Stars.

Plato affirms, We had our Eyes given us to observe the Stars, and our Reason to contemplate their Motions and Significations; and Ovid rhimes out his

Os homini sublime dedit Caelumq; tuum

Iussit; & erectos ad Sidera tollere vultus:

God with a lofty Look did Man endow,

And bid him Heavens transcendant Glories view.

Thus may we see very Learned Divines, Philosophers, and Poets have devoutly vouch'd the Influence of the Stars, and given their Suffrage for Astral Predictions; nor can it be said, That Prognostications, deduced from evident Causes in Nature, were disallowed in any well-govern'd Commonwealth, whether Heathen, Jewish or Christian, but in most of em permitted and encouraged, maugre the Malice of the most invidious Enemies to the contrary, who envy a harmless Motto, Astra regunt homines sed regit astra Deus; The Stars rule Men, but God rules the Stars; telling us that if God o'er rules the Stars, then can there be no certainty in Astral Predictions, just as if we should argue that the Eye hath no Power to see because we may wink and shut out the Light; or Light no Power to illuminate, because it may be averted, as the Luminaries themselves in an Eclipse; but tho' God can interpose his extraordinary Power, (for the Heavens and Stars are his ordinary Instruments) and do some Things besides Nature, or contrary to it, yet very seldom was he ever known to do so, and that upon extraordinary Occasions, as in Joshua's Time, when he made the Sun and Moon stand still; in Hezekiah's, when he made the Sun Retrograde; and at our Saviour's Passion he caused the Sun to be eclipsed at a full Moon, which, according to the Course of Nature, can never be eclips'd but at a New Moon.

So now the French King seems (like Pharaoh) to be hardened, and some Miracle must be wrought to soften him to a Peace, for the repeated peaceful Rays of the Two Superiour Planets have not yet been forcible enough to make him comply, notwithstanding the frequent Instances of God's Displeasure against him; the Chimerical Humours for an Universal Monarchy having been so deeply rooted in his ambitious Vitals; but there are Two Trines more of those Planets before the end of 1710, which we well hope may bring the Matter to Perfection, and send the Dove home with the Olive-branch of Peace in her Mouth: But 'tis time now to come to our intended Business, and see what may be observed by the Positions, Motions, and Configurations of the Heavens and Stars for the Year ensuing.

THE Opposition of the Moon and Saturn and the Trine of Sol and Mars, are the most material Aspects of this Ingress: The one signifying cold, snowy, and wet Weather, and the other a dry and frosty Air: The one implies Treats and Martial Consults, and the other Winter, Trouble and Turmoil to the Common People, Losses and Crosses by Sea and Land; Poverty, Want and Sickness, with other Afflictions. The Conjunction of Jupiter, Venus and Mercury in the Second House, in Sagittary in platick Trine to Mars, bodes much good to the Publick Increase of Trade, and much Profit, great Supplies, and Subsistence; Treats and Truces.

The envious Planet Saturn upon the Horoscope of King Augustus, will molest his Person, and give him Trouble from his Enemies this Winter: 'Twill give the Duke of Anjou, and his old Grandfire too some considerable Loss by Sea; the long and tedious transit of Mars through Leo, will mightily affect Italy in general, and Rome in particular with Fires, Fevers and Hostilities: This fiery Planet makes that Sign his Mansion-House from the 26th of September 1710 till the 17th of May 1711, and will leave a bitter Sting behind him, not soon nor easily worn out: At his Entrance thereinto, he comes upon the opposite Place of Saturn, and the bodily Place of the Moon in the French-King's Radix, on the Year, 1711.

and but Two Houses asunder, some account it equal to a Sextile, thereby signifying more Good than Mischief to Princes and Prelates; if some Gown-man should be a little confin'd it will soon be over: The good Aspects of this Vernal Quarter being more in Number than the bad, we may hope for a mild and remperate Spring, tho' the Moon in Square to Saturn will interpose cooling Showers.

THE most material Aspects at this Ingress, and in this Month are the Conjunction of Mars and the Moon, the Conjunction of Saturn and Venus, the Conjunction of Sol and Mercury, the Opposition of Jupiter and the Sun.

From the Conjunction of Mars and the Moon we may expect a sickly Summer, Small Pox, Meazles, Fevers and Fluxes, Cholick, and cruel Gripings in the Bowels very severe, and very frequent; mighty Sufferings by Martial Force, Wars, Sedition Tumults, Uproars, Commotions and Insurrections. If Peace be not yet concluded, wo be to France in general, and Paris in particular! For this Conjunction falls just on the Place of the Sun in the French King's Radix, which bodes him some remarkable Disturbance and Trouble to his Person and Government, it may give him the Cholick, Flux, or Fever; and endanger his Sight, raise Tumults and Commotions in his Territories, and mightily disturb and distract his Councils; but the worst on't is, many of his poor Vassals will severely suffer, but then for their Comfort, the Time of their Redemption draweth nigh.

Saturn in Conjunction with Venus, bodes much Mischief to teeming Women through Frights, Grief and Discontent; Scandals, and evil Reports, Sickness and Sadness.

The

An Astrological Judgment

The Conjunction of Sol and Mercury in Opposition to Jupiter, signifies frequent Councils and Consults among Princes and Governours about the Breach of Laws, Customs, or Privileges; or the Delinquency of some great Lawyer, Divine, or Statesman, also some Clerks, Secretaries, or Accomprants. Much Thunder and Lightning may be expected this Summer, and that very mischievous in some Places: But there being a great Eclipse of the Sun next Month, we will hasten to some Observations thereon.

THIS New Moon
is in the Seventh House of Heaven in a watry Sign in Scat- tile to Mars in the Eighth, whence we may expect much Mortality, Wars,
and Commotions.
Mars rules the Luntion, being Lord of the Mid-heaven, exalted in the Ascen- dant, in Sextile to the Luminaries, and in Square to Jupiter.

who is Reprognostic in the Twelfth: Still more Mischief, Religious Controversies, and Effusion of Humane Blood, Military Impositions, Uproars and Tumults, over-swelling of Rivers, great Rains, Floods and Inundations.

Let Holland, Scotland, Venice, York, and Constantinople look to feel those Effects, some in one kind and some in another; let all Northern and watry Nations expect a Share in the Matter; let all Persons of what Degree or Quality soever, that have the Sun or Moon in or near 22 Degrees of Cancer or Capricorn, or those Degrees on their Horoscope or Culminant, in their Nativities, or Saturn or Mars therein, be sure to taste the Tartness of these Influences: Let the great Eclipse in September 1699. and that on May-day 1706. be considered, and what succeeded them, and then may we guess at the Effects of this, which in some sort may prove as significant,

on the Year, 1711:

Great Eclipses of the Sun are always the Prodromi of great Catastrophes, the Death or Downfal of Princes, Governours, and Great Men both in Church and State, in Fleets or Armies, Corporations or Colonies; much Alteration in Governments: Cruel Storms and Tempests, Inroads of Enemies, Sickness and Poverty, and a great Destruction of People. Saturn with Dragons-tail signifies much Treachery and Deceit, Terrors and Torments: God send us Peace and Plenty at Home, and then we need care the less for what happens Abroad. Northern Troubles seem reviv'd and heighten'd

MARS in Conjunction with Venus in Scorpio, in square to Saturn in Leo, signifies foul and turbulent Weather, as well as foul and turbulent Actions in the Places signified by those Signs: Rapes and other Rudeness, barbarous and cruel Acts and Accidents: Above Two Months will these Two Planets be in Conjunction, which will repeat the Evils and Mischiefs signified by them, many cold Blasts of Rain and Hail, if not Snow, in some Places. Storms and Tempests, Wars, Duels, and intestine Discords.

The Trine of the Moon and Mercury in Sextile to Jupiter, makes the Common People very Industrious and Successful in their Vocations and Callings: It Fortunes Merchants and Mariners, and makes Agents and Ambassadors diligent and dispatchful: It sends home Fleets well Cargo'd, fills Barns and Store-houses, and advances Arts and Sciences; produces many witty and useful Inventions, tending both to Profit and Pleasure; to making good the Saying of the Poet,

He doth most surely hit the White,
Who mixeth Profit with Delight.

The

Rules to know when Goods or Commodities, &c.

The Times are coming and not far off, wherein Corn will be cheaper and Money more plentiful among Tradesmen; 'tis then the Commonwealth prospereth: Tradesmen circulate Money, Clowns and Misers either hoard it or purchase Lands, both which bring no Good to the Publick, but makes hard Times, breaks Tradesmen, and starves the Poor; for when Corn and Cattle are dear, then are the most part of Farmers so intent upon filling their Bags, that they can afford nothing to the Poor, nor think of good House-keeping being then much more miserable than when Things are cheap; but let all such know, that he is not Rich, which hath much, but he that hath enough, nor is he Poor that hath but a little, but he that covets more; he to whom a little seems not enough, a great deal will seem but a little.

Rules to know when Goods or Commodities will be Dear or Cheap at any Time.

To know this, we must first be inform'd what things are under the Government of each Planet, which are as follows.

UNDER Saturn are Working-Cattle, Asses, Hogs, Bacon, Pork and Salt-Beef; Lead, and Leaden-ware, Wood, and Wooden-ware, Earth and Stone, Earthen and Stone-ware, Leather, and Leathern-ware, Hemp, and Hempen-ware; as Ropes and Canvas-Cloth, Barley and Vetches, black Wool and black Woollen Cloth, Old lean Cheese, Pitch.

Under Jupiter are Oxen and Weathers, Woollen-cloth, and Woollen-garments, Wooll-hats and Stockins, Tin and Pewter, Wheat and Coco-nuts.

Under Mars are War-horses, Iron and Steel-ware, Guns, Swords, Powder and Shot, Pepper, Ginger, Gauls and Tobacco, the most violent sort of Physcal things, Brandy and Hot waters.

Under Sol are Gold, Saffron, Cochineel, Cinnamon, Nutmegs, Cloves, Mace, Rice, Sack, and rich Wines, Sun-raisins and Almonds; Tissue, Velvet, and Embroidred-cloth, Rings and Jewels.

Under

Rules to know when Goods or Commodities, &c.

Under Venus are Milch-cattel, Milk and Butter, Goats, Conys, Bracelets, Fans, Silks, Linen, Fruit, Sugar, Flax, Sweet-wines, Sweet-meats, gentle Physick, Brasse, new Cheese, and Toys.

Under Mercury are Paper, Parchment, Vellums, Books, Manuscripts, Letters, Quicksilver, Oats, Nuts, striped Silks and Stuffs.

Under the Moon are Silver, Fish, Lignors, Cabbage, Melons, Cucumbers, Beans and Pease; Oranges, Limons, and Pome-granates, Soap, Tallow and Candles.

Thus then what Planets at a Revolution or Ingress are strong, the Goods and Commodities under them will be dear, but what Planets are found weak at those Times, the Goods and Commodities under them will be cheap. Oriental Planets make Things dear; but Occidental Planets make Things cheap; where, Note, that Saturn, Jupiter, and Mars Oriental make Things dear, and Occidental cheap; But Venus and Mercury Oriental make Things cheap and being Occidental they make them dear. Saturn, Mars, or Dragons-tail with the Moon, make a Scarcity; but Jupiter, Venus, or Dragons-head with the Moon, make a Plenty.

About Michaelmas, in 1708, the Price of Corn began to advance from a Square of the Two Superiour Planets in June prece-ding, which signify'd a Dearth made by Monopolizing and Extravagance; the Luminaries at the Autumnal Ingress much afflicted by both the Infortunes then in Conjunction, Jove then in Libra under the Sun-beams. Wheat may continue dear (rising and falling a little now and then) till Jove gets into Capricorn, and Chronus into Leo; Jove gets into Capricorn the latter part of February, 1711. and there continues till the latter part of May; then by a Retrograde Motion comes into Sagittary again, and stays there till the middle of October, during which time Wheat may be expected to bear a considerable Price, but after that it falls with a witness: Chronus gets into Leo about Michaelmas, 1710. but then in December he comes back into Cancer again, where he continues till June, 1711. at which Time he takes full Possession of Leo, and there Trines Aries, the English Horoscope, yet hath it been observed, that he therein signifies some Rub to London; let him stoop o'er the Alps and visit Italy and Rome (not forgetting ing to call upon his Holiness the Pope) also Turkey, Chaldæa, Sicily, Bohemia, Prague and Damascus, the Northern parts have felt the Weight of his Leaden Heels to purpose: Witness the Pretenders Expedition for Scotland, the Rout and Exile of the King of Sweden, the Troubles of the City of Hamburgh, the Rout of the Danes by the Sweeds, with many other Instances, too tedious here to relate; therefore to conclude,

GOD bless the Queen, direct Her what to do,
God bless the Peers, God bless the People too:
Those Peers, I mean, that with an in-bred Zeal,
Seek Britain's Peace, pursuing Publick weal:
That dare be honest, though at any rate;
That stand prepar'd to meet the worst of Fate;
That laugh at Threats, and Flatteries despise;
That won't be knavish, to be counted wise;
That scorn the tim'rous Fool, whose feeble Mind
Is whirl'd about with every blast of Wind:
That to Self-Interest lend no list'ning Ear;
Nor suffers Reason to be led by Fear:
That of no Faction are, but do profess
To Queen and Country, with true Heartiness,
Both Loyalty and Love, with an intent,
Division, and Disunion to prevent:
Division! Oh, 'twas that unhappy Word,
Did once more Mischief, than a Popish Sword
Could ever do; Oh, that a sweet Communion
Of Peace and Love, may but compleat our Union:
Then shall we all escape the Scorpion's Claws,
And dread no Power, but what's deriv'd from Laws.

FINIS.
